→ SEVILLA 1503

Crossing the ocean in search of adventure and wealth became the obsession of sailors, merchants and nobles for more than two centuries in the streets of Seville. Its port, the largest in the Old Continent, offers you the opportunity to be part of an expedition that goes down in the history of the Ruta de las Indias.

This is how Sevilla 1503 is presented, an auction eurogame with a great blind bidding mechanic, reversible asymmetric boards and more than 100 cards with dozens of hidden combinations.

Inspired by the Andalusian city during the 16th century, both art and design are set in that historical era in the Mediterranean.
